AERIAL FOOTBALL SEEMS TO HAVE THE BEST OF PLAYERS WONDERING WHAT'S GOING ON.

BY ROBERT W. (TINY) MAXWELL.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Probably no department of football has taken so long a time to develop or been so imperfectly handled as the forward pass.

Year after year we go along seeing the same old things happen when a team resorts to the aerial style of play, things that should have been eradicated long ago in the natural course of development.

APPLIES TO ALL.

This could be understood if it applied merely to men of mediocre ability. It might be said then that the same thing applies to everything they do, that they lack the true instincts that mark the difference between the player of medium ability and the high-class star. But it seems to apply to all kinds of players.

So far this season we have seen one game lost because a certain player who was a rattling good back in all other ways lost when he attempted to work with passes.

Admittedly, it is one of the most difficult plays of the game, and when a man is tense, expecting every moment to feel a pair of tackling arms clutch him around the ankles, he is more than likely to drop the ball, but that does not entirely answer.

HANDLE THE BALL.

Men in the basketball cage get bumped and manhandled in much the same manner they do on the gridiron. Of course, they are not alarmed to the floor and walked on with the same sangfroid or what ever you want to call it, but it is a hard game just the same. Yet they handle the ball and handle it expertly.

After seeing so much of this sort of thing one is apt to stop and wonder whether the fault does not lie with the high and prep schools. Very few players who come up to the college with reputations as star prep or high school players have the faintest idea about what a forward pass really means. Some few of them can throw it and some can catch it, but when it comes to handling it under difficult situations they are nearly all at sea.

NO REAL GROUND WORK.

Of course, the teams of schools to which a player goes before he enters college could not hope to handle forwards as well as a collegian.

FEAR WORST FOR COUGARS.

Generally Believed That California Eleven Will Trim Washington State Saturday.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 26.—Portland expects to see one of the greatest gridiron battles of 1921 when the University of California and Washington State meet next Saturday on Multnomah Field. Early in the season it was expected that this game would settle the Pacific Coast championship. Then along came the Oregon Aggies and proved that they were very much a factor in the race. The game next Saturday will not settle the championship, for the Aggies are now to be reckoned with, but if California wins it will have cleared its path of a dangerous rival.

Away back in 1908 the Golden State varsity came here to play Multnomah Club. That was in a day when there was a more intense rivalry between college and club teams and the game attracted much attention. California won, 27 to 0, having too much experience and weight for the clubmen, but it was a fierce struggle. The famous "Lo-motive" shaft was on the line and Gold team, as was Ransburg, whose kangaroo jump spread his fame all over the United States.

EXPECT BIG CROWD.

Not all the people who wish to see the Bears and the Cougars battle will be able to do so. For the first time in Portland's football history, it is likely the crowd will exceed the capacity of Multnomah Field. There has been a great advance sale and the bleachers will be stormed as soon as the gates open.

California is picked here as the winner. Washington State has not yet met a conference team, but none of its preliminary games have indicated great strength. First, the alumni took it down the line, 31 to 7, and last Friday it 20-to-3 victory over Idaho, was nothing to write

Yes, Sir! She Really Swims.

Marie Curtis, an L.A.A.C. Aquatic Star.

Who is just as easy to look at as any Mack Sennett bathing beauty that ever sidestepped salt water and who is a remarkably fine swimmer besides. The fair Marie is only one of a number of swimmers who will swim through the placid waters of the Mercury pool this evening. A long string of thrilling events has been lined up on the program, including everything from 50-yard dashes to high and fancy diving.

WATER STARS TO SPLASH.

Winter Swimming Season Opens With Quite a Program in the Athletic Club Pool This Evening.

The first aquatic event of the Los Angeles Athletic Club for the winter season will be staged in the club plunge tonight when the new members of both the men's and women's teams will make their initial appearance.

The girls' team now has fifteen of the most promising youngsters of the country and Coach Cady is confident that these girls will bring many new records to the credit of the team. The men's team also has several new stars, among them being Colin Smith, a youngster who is looked upon as the coming champion at 220 yards while Stanislaus Moss, another newcomer, is stepping the 50 and 100-yard sprints in record time.

The program includes a push ball contest between the two girls' teams, the Seals and Dolphins. Which promises great excitement. The 800-foot men's relay race between the club team and Venice Swimming Association squad may be relied upon to furnish many thrills, and the girls of the Seals and Dolphins will again clash in a 200-yard relay race.

Another event of interest will be the diving contest between the men divers of the club, including Clyde Swendsen and Haig Priests, both members of the Olympic team. Walter Krikel, Pacific Coast champion, Ralph Sumner and Harvey Parry, which promises great excitement. The prize for the diving contest is a handsome gold watch which has been donated by Snub Pollard, screen comedian.

The following is a list of the events and the entrants:

50-yard dash, girls—Helen Vernon, Thelma Punt, Marion Himelstein, Robina Middleman.

100-yard dash, girls—Helen Vernon, Thelma Punt, Marion Himelstein, Robina Middleman.

200-yard dash, girls—Helen Vernon, Thelma Punt, Marion Himelstein, Robina Middleman.

400-yard dash, girls—Helen Vernon, Thelma Punt, Marion Himelstein, Robina Middleman.

TROJANS' INVASION HAS BEARS WORRIED AT THAT.

Coming Football Tilt With U.S.C. Looms as Large as the Annual Argument With Stanford.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Seems strange to see a California coach pointing toward a game with a Southern California eleven.

Formerly California and Stanford, meaning in the days of straight football, considered the southern colleges too small fry to be given serious consideration.

They allowed the southerners a practice game at rare intervals, providing they would travel north to get it. Once, unless my mental data are incorrect, the then light Pomona team held California down to a 6-to-0 victory, thereby causing great surprise; but as a rule most of the games aside from their own annual clash were little more than workouts for California and Stanford.

But this year, the Blue and Gold is believed to be taking U.S.C. more seriously than it does Stanford, the latter's defeat by the fleet making the annual game with the Cardinal look to California already as good as won.

QUITE EXCITED.

And reports from San Francisco are to the effect that this north vs. south contest is arousing as much interest as the coming clash between California and Stanford. This section has grown greatly in a football way in the last decade.

Thanks to California's showing against Ohio this year, the West is unwilling to concede the East anything in football. And there is no reason why the south should concede the north any particular edge, except for Andy Smith's wonder team, which last season was without the shadow of a doubt the best in these great United States. U.S.C. demonstrated against Oregon last season that, counting out the Golden Bears, the South is, if anything, ahead of the general run of northern football, as previously indicated by a Trojan triumph over Stanford.

It is hardly likely that Gloomy Gus Henderson was spoofing when he expressed the opinion that U.S.C. is due for a licking when it tackles California.

After seeing the Bears in action he must have been gloomy without much mental effort. Recalling what California did to Ohio, almost any coach whose eleven was to meet the Bruins would be downcast.

Personally, we have always doubted whether Henderson simulates these deep periods of mental depression. It is just possible he thinks his team is going to get licked every time it starts. I think a psychanalysis of Gloomy Gus would show the soundness of his disposition to be subnormal.

Last New Year's, California had a perfect day against Ohio. It is doubtful whether any football eleven could ever hope to duplicate the "form" displayed in that intersectional match. But the Bears do not seem to be in good luck worse than they were then, and still lick half the teams in the country.

It is conceivable that Spotted and Majors could be satisfactorily retrained, possibly improved upon. Brick Muller's case is different. After Brick was turned out they broke the mold, and closed up the brickyard.

But Smith has an inexhaustible supply of man power from which to draw, and therein probably lies California's chief superiority over U.S.C. Smith is able to place four good teams on the field, and there is little to choose between the four, although he need only one team against the Buckeyes. Football is now as much a mass meeting as it is a sport, and in a grueling match, high-class reserves are two-thirds the battle.

U.S.C., however, is doubtless better than it has shown to date. "U.S.C." should have run up 100 points against Occidental, "was a remark dropped by our able football expert, Paul Lowry, following this game. So, unquestionably, the Trojans have something under cover.

California figures to win, if nothing else by weight of numbers, but it may prove to be the Bears' hardest game, and a closer score than many anticipate.

PHIL O'DOWD IS GIVEN DECISION.

Columbus Boxer Has Better of Lynch Bout.

Both Lads Fight Furiously Throughout Set-to.

Winner Takes Count of Nine in Fifth Session.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Phil O'Dowd, Columbus, O., tonight was awarded the judges' decision after a slashing twelve-round bout with Joe Lynch, former bantamweight champion.

It was Lynch's first fight since his defeat by Pete Herman last summer. O'Dowd displayed a cleverness that Lynch was unable to fathom.

O'Dowd used his left to advantage and won eight rounds. Lynch had the better of two and honors were even in the other two.

Lynch pushed O'Dowd to the floor in the fifth round. O'Dowd took the count of nine and then came back at Lynch as furiously as he had him groggy at the bell. In the sixth round O'Dowd had Lynch near a knockout. O'Dowd weighed 118 3-4 and Lynch 122.

ESPEE ELEVEN TO TACKLE SANTA FE.

The recently organized Southern Pacific shophen's football team will make its debut next Sunday afternoon at San Bernardino when it tangles with the Santa Fe eleven on the latter's new grounds. A large delegation of rooters is expected to accompany the squad.

Manager W. L. Lyman has arranged several games, the next being with the Santa Barbara Knights of Columbus, and following that the Espee pigskinners will journey to Sacramento for a skirmish with the Southern Pacific team of that city.

SHERMAN INDIANS MAY MEET PHOENIX REDMEN.

Arrangements are being made for a football game between the Sherman Indians and the Phoenix Redmen. It is planned to play the game in Phoenix, although a definite date has not been set yet.

The Sherman Redskins have the speediest eleven that has represented their school for several years.

FOOTBALL OFFICIALS ASSEMBLE FOR CONFAB.

The regular weekly meeting of the Southern California Football Officials' Association will be held tonight at the Angelus Hotel, beginning at 7:30 p.m. W. S. Kienholz, the daddy of 'em all, will preside during the meeting. Officials for the various prep and college games of the week will be selected.

Champion Woman Bowler Successfully Defends Title at Venice.

MRS. HUMPHRIES IS TRIUMPHANT.

Defeats Mrs. Warner in Final of Bowling Contest.

Champion Makes Remarkable Score for the Match.

To Meet Mrs. L. D. Meador at Venice Alleys Soon.

Mrs. Birdie Humphries lived up to the reputation she has gained as the champion woman bowler of the world by defeating Mrs. Bobby Warner, Southern California champion, in the final installment of their series at the Venice Bowling and Pool Hall last night, 913 to 851. Mrs. Humphries had previously won from Mrs. Warner in the first half of the match, scoring 853 points against her adversary's 841, and her victory last night brought her grand total up the 1766. Mrs. Warner made 1692 points during the match. As a result of the contest last night Mrs. Humphries annexed the additional title of the champion match-game bowler of America. She took the Pacific Coast championship away from Mrs. L. D. Meador in the annual tournament at Fresno last spring, but will give Mrs. Meador another chance to show her mettle when they meet next week at the Venice alleys.

The first game of the set of five last night went to Mrs. Warner, but the champion hit her stride after that, and won the remaining games by substantial margins. Her high game was 236, while Mrs. Warner's best figure was 219. Mrs. Humphries made the remarkable game average of 176 2/3 for the match. Mrs. Warner pressing her hard with 170. An enthusiastic crowd witnessed the play last night, and according to Billy Mason it was a thrilling exhibition for the fans. Following are the complete scores:

SAGEHENS AFTER OBERLIN.

A movement is on foot at Pomona College to bring the Oberlin College football team West next year for a game with the Sagehens. Although definite negotiations have not been gone into, letters have crossed the country and the plans for such an encounter are being given serious consideration at both ends.

William S. Ames, for a number of years coach of fresh teams at the Claremont institution of learning, is now secretary of the Oberlin Alumni Association, with head offices in Oberlin. The idea for the game comes from the brain of Coach Eugene W. Nison, who, this week got in touch with Ames. It is understood that the former Pomona mentor also favors the idea, so it is practically only a matter of definite arrangements until the game is assured.

Such an encounter would undoubtedly draw a good crowd if played here. Both colleges are of the same type, although the eastern institution has a larger enrollment. Both play the highest class of football for colleges of their type. A comparison of eastern football as played by a smaller college, as against that of a similar western institution would be interesting.

SERVICE NINES CLASH.

After having bumped off all comers, the Sub Base baseball nine will go after the Army's scalp on November 14, when the Submarines cross bats with the Fort MacArthur diamond artists at Mather Park. Both teams have been winning games with ease throughout the summer season, and an interesting afternoon is on tap for the fans when they get together.

Lieutenant-Commander R. J. Rogers is skipping the Navy nine from the keystone sack, where he performs with considerable class. Capt. Clarence W. Dresser is the boss of the Big Guns, and is famous for his nifty work with the bluecoats. A large delegation of supporters of the rival teams is expected to turn out for the fray. The receipts of the game will go toward the athletic fund for enlisted men in the harbor district.

POSSIBILITIES IN CARD FROSH.

Stanford Youngsters Showing Real Football Form.

Should Add Lots of Zip to the Varsity Next Year.

Southern Prep Heroes Playing in Major Roles.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 26.—Guy Dennis, captain of the Stanford freshmen gridder and former captain of Los Angeles High School, may be displaced as chief field director of the Stanford yearlings if Gilbert Wheat, also of Los Angeles, continues his present strenuous fight for the honor of calling the plays.

LOOKS THE MONEY. Wheat was given a trial at quarter several weeks ago by Coach Seay, who was so well pleased that he has given the new contender more and more time directing the eleven with each successive game. Against Selma, Wheat called the plays for nearly three-fourths of the time.

Should Wheat finally make the grade as quarter for the Cardinal freshmen, Dennis should shift to left halfback, displacing Howard of San Francisco. Howard has been going well, but has not the hitting power of the former captain, and will have to give way when Dennis moves out of quarterback's job. Cuddesback, from Los Angeles Polytechnic, is a date has led the candidates for fullback's position, but is close pressed by Macorie of Whittier. Macorie started the season handicapped by injuries, but has improved rapidly with the last few weeks.

ONLY ONE TO WATCH. Gilliland at right halfback has only one serious opponent, Hooper of San Francisco. The Phoenix lad is fast, has the football instinct and fighting qualities that seem to cinch him as one of the best yearling backfield men.

At center VanHook of Santa Monica, McCrory of Coronado and Williams of Hollywood are staging a three-cornered contest. The Santa Monica boy, though the lightest, seems to have the edge in experience, and must meet the games.

Crook of Oakland, Neill of Santa Monica and McCloskey of San Mateo are about even on honors in the role of guard.

RAH FOR SHIPKE! Consistent in all his trials, Shipke from Fullerton stands out as the most effective lineman Seay has this year. He has worked at left tackle, ruling mate for Shipke, Dole of Riverside, Helser of Oakland, Thede of Madera and Driscoll of San Jose. He is going strong, Dole keeping a slight lead.

Jannsen from Potter High School of San Francisco is clearly the strongest end of Seay's back, playing on the left side. Fuller of San Francisco and Wideman from Los Angeles High School are alternating in the honor of starting.

JUMPING JACK BOXERS ARE PLEASING TO THE UNINITIATED; CLEVER FOOTWORK A SCIENCE.

BY DE WITT VAN COTT. Rosa Munde, metropolitan dancer, says the American pugilist is too sluggish and needs the ballet to improve his footwork and slowness.

Fear Rosa has seen few of our pugilists at work or she would have made such a statement. The footwork of some of our present-day boxers is far from being sluggish. They have a combination of the ballet, buck-and-wing and jig steps all in one. In fact, there is more footwork than anything else in boxing. It is of vital importance in pugilism. Georges Carpentier's footwork is good, but sometimes overdone, but what he overdoes with his feet, he makes up for, with the use of his arms and fists, to a certain extent. Rosa probably carried away with Carpentier's flashy footwork.

work and up to the present time, Georges has got away with it in good style. We have many dancing pugilists these days. But in looking up the record we see few near the top of the list of champions or near-champions.

JUMPING JACKS. The dancing pugilist is one kind and the really clever foot-worker is entirely another kind. Many of our preliminary boxers practice their so-called clever footwork by jumping, turning and twisting their legs in all sorts of steps, without any aim of holding the balance or the weight of the body into a blow. They often hit when in the act of stepping sideways with either foot, and often hit with their left hands, while stepping forward with the right foot, etc.

To the uninitiated this seems, often times, clever work with the feet. But to the man who knows, it is ridiculous. Again, to the uninitiated the flash of the feet, and not the real science, appeals to them. The clever footwork of a pugilist requires just as much practice and attention as skill with his arms and fists. But most of the present-day boxers do little of either. Few of our boxers seem to realize, that the slightest misplaced step with the feet changes the direction of the blow delivered, throws the body out of balance, and too often causes him to miss the mark struck at.

NO FLASH WORK. Clever footwork of a clever boxer is as interesting as the movements of his hands. Such great boxers as Jim Corbett, Joe Gans and Joe Choynski, Peter Jackson, Tommy Ryan and Packy McFarland never did any flashy work with their feet. Each step worked in perfect coordination with the hands and brain. A slight move backward, or sideways, a few inches with the feet, was enough to make an opponent miss. Boxers like Jack O'Brien and Johnny Dundee, while clever, overdo their footwork by jumping around and away several feet, when a few inches would give the same result. Like Carpentier, they expend too much energy in their footwork.

The speed of a boxer depends entirely upon the use of his feet. Ballet dancing would do more to greatly to the development of the legs and control of them, but the pugilist would do better if he cut out the dancing during a contest. Tumblers and acrobats usually make good boxers. Their work gives them a splendid balance of the body, excellent control of their legs and a fine judgment of time, each of which is an asset to the boxer.

Handball and basketball are also good work for boxers. But the pugilist who trains his muscles, legs, arms and brain along the lines to accomplish the most with the least exertion, will be the man who gains the most speed, strength and endurance and also improves his hitting power and judgment.

RUTH SOON TO KNOW PENALTY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Babe Ruth, baseball's home-run king, will know his penalty for violating the rule against post-season barnstorming by world-series players in about two weeks. It was learned here today, Judge Landis, baseball commissioner, is preparing his decision. The judge said today he had seen nothing but newspaper reports of a proposed visit from Ruth to apologize for violating the rule.

AERIAL PIGSKIN SPORT PUZZLES.

Neither can they do anything else as well. They are not mature and have not had the experience. But most of them are not even well versed in the fundamentals. Inasmuch as the average American boy has a pretty good idea of how to catch a baseball, it is to be wondered at that they cannot handle a football better, for the principle is exactly the same.

There are three distinct styles of the forward pass. One is the long heave of anywhere from twenty to fifty yards, which occasionally goes through and wins a game. It is completed about once in thirty tries. The second is the short, bullet or baseball pass that rarely goes more than ten yards and is usually right over the line of scrimmage. With a well-trained team this should be completed about three-fourths of the time. There is little or no danger with it of having the ball intercepted, and it is far the best of all.

The third is the wild, take-a-chance kind, which is just a waste of energy. That short pass is the thing. The Middle have it down pretty fine, and sooner or later, a lot of other coaches are going to wake up to the fact that it is the only proper way. Then we will have a real, spectacular aerial game.

CRACKING GOOD CARD FOR LEGION ARENA.

With the preliminary events featured with the bout between Muff Bronson and Frankie Oldrich, Matchmaker Frank Crowley has about completed the card for Friday night's show to be put on by the Hollywood American Legion. Bronson is the fast boy with a hard punch from Portland who once before put up a whale of a bout at Hollywood. Oldrich comes from Oakland and is a tough mauler. The best main event, according to the wisecrackers along the Rialto, that Crowley has yet arranged will come up between Billy McCann and Young France. The semi-wind-up will bring on Young Papke and Joe Brown. Another prelim was arranged yesterday and should be a hammer and tongs affair. Johnny Adams, crack boxer of San Bernardino, who many declare will develop into a better boy than Ad Rudoudoux, meets Teddy Silva.

Exide BATTERIES

Bright Lights on the Farm

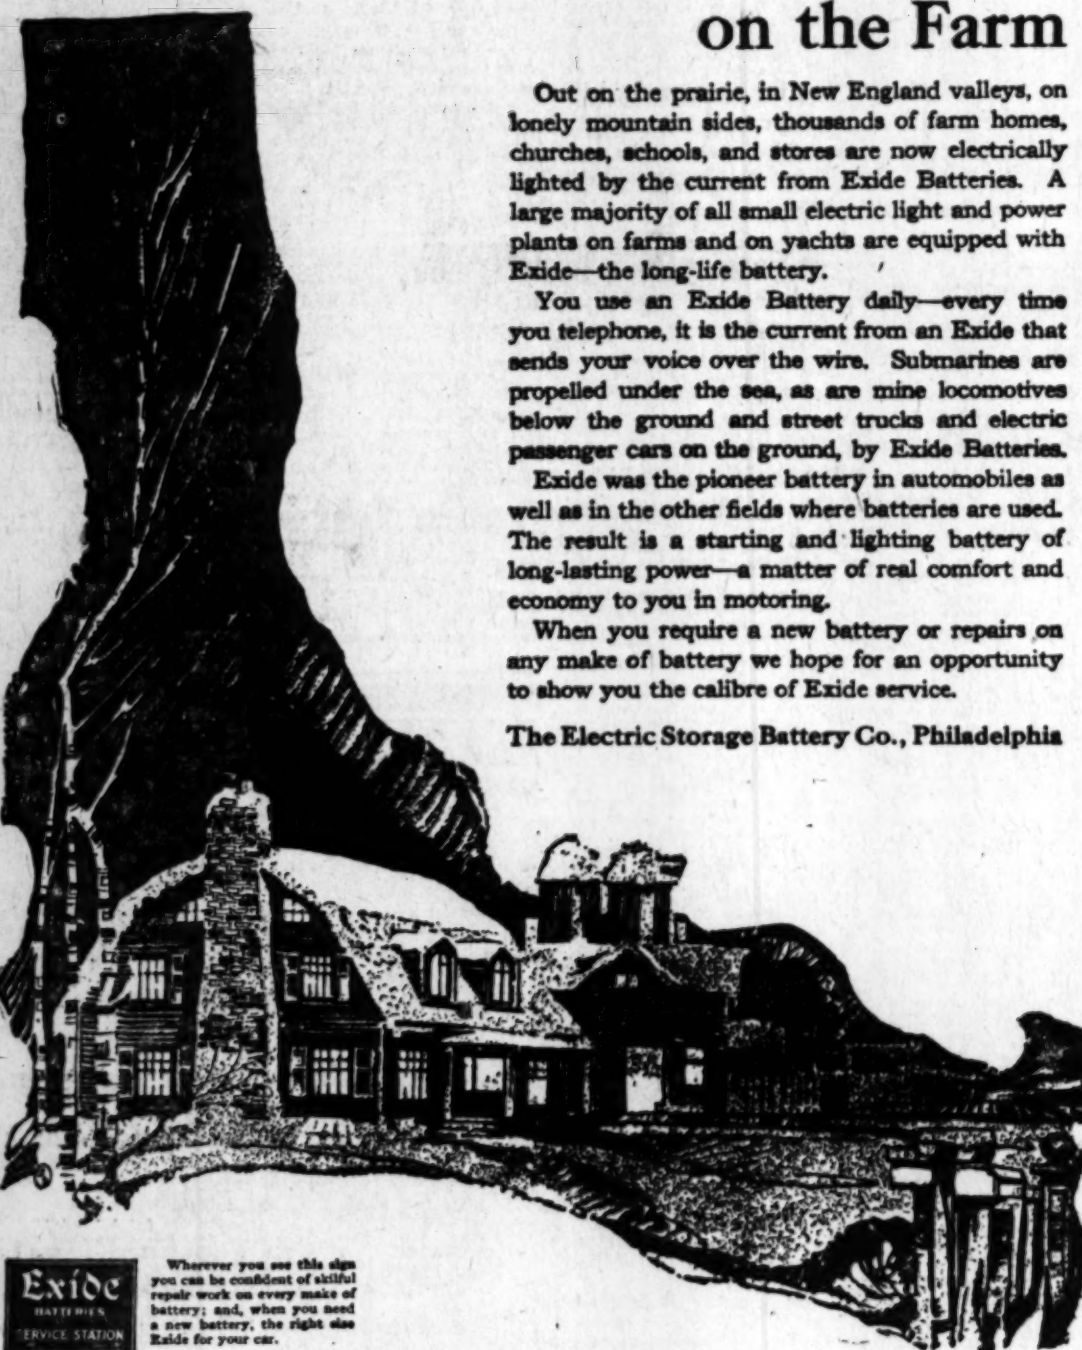

Out on the prairie, in New England valleys, on lonely mountain sides, thousands of farm homes, churches, schools, and stores are now electrically lighted by the current from Exide Batteries. A large majority of all small electric light and power plants on farms and on yachts are equipped with Exide—the long-life battery.

You use an Exide Battery daily—every time you telephone, it is the current from an Exide that sends your voice over the wire. Submarines are propelled under the sea, as are mine locomotives below the ground and street trucks and electric passenger cars on the ground, by Exide Batteries.

Exide was the pioneer battery in automobiles as well as in the other fields where batteries are used. The result is a starting and lighting battery of long-lasting power—a matter of real comfort and economy to you in motoring.

When you require a new battery or repairs on any make of battery we hope for an opportunity to show you the calibre of Exide service.

RIVAL CLUBS FOR GOTHAM.

Jim Buckley to Start Boxing Arena and Stage Classy Bouts in Opposition to Tex Rickard.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—New York soon will have another important boxing club, a rival organization to Madison Square Garden. Jim Buckley, veteran handler of boxers and promoter of bouts, will be matchmaker and one of the managers of the new organization. It is reported that Jim Coffroth, San Francisco boxing promoter, will have an interest in the club. Billy Gibson, manager of Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, is said to be the third member of the triumvirate which plans to operate in opposition to Tex Rickard in the promotion of important ring bouts. The opening show of the new club is slated for November 28. The date, however, is subject to change, although at present Buckley is confident the club will be able to conduct its initial show on "The Monday" following "Thanksgiving Day," as he expressed it. A championship match has been arranged in which it is understood, Benny Leonard, lightweight titleholder, will seek to wrest the world's welterweight championship from Jack Britton, Chicago veteran. Efforts to obtain positive information on this bout were unsuccessful. Buckley would admit that two champions will be seen in action on the opening card, but refused to divulge the identity of the titleholders under consideration. It was learned from a reliable source, however, that the Leonard-Britton bout is under consideration as the opening attraction.

CHANGE DATE OF RACE.

It was announced last night by Ray Thomas, chairman of the regatta committee of the Los Angeles Motor Boat Club, that the dates of the annual seventy-five-mile speedboat race for the Nordlinger trophy have been again changed. The date will be November 19 and 20. The dates were set originally for October, but many delays in entries caused what was thought a final setting of the dates for October 5 and 6. The committee, when hearing that Frank Garbutt would be unable to have the Mystery VI ready in time, again postponed the big classic to the above dates. A new era in motor-boat racing is not only looked for during the coming race, but a complete revolution in the style boat. At least three of the entries will be of the single-step hydroplane type—never before used in Southern Pacific waters. All will have engines of from 300 to 500 horsepower and a speed of sixty miles an hour will be possible.

MISSION PEGS ARE FEARFUL.

timed the ball on the edge of the bat and the pitcher. Little coquette stirred cooly into Slater's dextrous mitt.

REAL THRILL.

But the real thrill of the game came in the first of the eighth inning, when Cooper did an aerial and snatched Miller's hit to the center-field fence. Just as the pill was about to drill a hole in the boards, Hack took an awful cut at the onion and away it soared, almost on a line to the fence. As the onion neared the outer field with Cooper in hot pursuit, it seemed to move upward. As he reached the boards, Cooper leaped into the air, poked his right mitt as far over his head as possible and snared the onion in one of the most sensational catches ever seen on the grounds. He was cheered to the echo for his great stunt.

ADOPTS CHILDREN.

CECIL DE MILLE TAKES TOTS INTO HIS HOME.

By Grace Kingsley.

We all know of the artistic greatness of Cecil De Mille, but it's only quite by accident one learns of his greatness of soul. Because he doesn't talk about it himself and apparently doesn't want anybody else to. But it seems hardly fair that his light should remain always hidden under a bushel, even if he himself does refuse to tell the story of his good deeds.

The fact is that Mr. De Mille has adopted a little boy, the son of a dead artist, and is bringing him up along with his own little girl, share and share alike, quite as if he were his own boy. Naturally the little fellow idolizes him.

But this is not all. Mr. and Mrs. De Mille have taken into their home a little girl, an orphan, and are educating her. They have been interested in her development, ever since they took her in, a few months ago, and are now planning legally to adopt her, as they did the boy.

Report has it that these two generous-hearted ones may not stop with the adoption of these two children, but may take other children into their big house on the Hollywood hill.

One whom Mr. De Mille has benefited told me of the producer's kindness deeds, which do not stop at the care of the children mentioned. It is known that during these dull times, he has many old studio and stage friends on the list of those he aids. He does his work practically, helping these people to help themselves.

SID Grauman Soon.

Having left Chicago Tuesday night, Sid Grauman is en route to Los Angeles and will arrive here tomorrow in event he does not accept invitations to stop over to confer with picture exhibitors.

On his first visit East in several years, Mr. Grauman went to New York more than a fortnight ago to sign up prominent performers and artists for his Southern California theaters.

Grover Jones Weds.

Times may be dull in movieland, but there are those in whose hearts optimism still glows, and of nobody, naturally, is this more true than of folks in love.

At least there is one couple in town who feel sure the future holds nothing but rose-colored luck. They are Grover Jones, Mack Bennett director, and Mrs. Grover Jones, the sister of whom formerly was Suzanne Avery, the dancer, but who last night became the bride of Jones.

The wedding took place at 4057 South Normandie avenue, and to-day the couple will set forth on a wedding trip to Honolulu.

Studio Club Benefit.

Ikey Cohn and his walling trombone of happy musical memory haven't a thing on Wall Street these days. Now Mr. Reid has promised to play a piece or two at the Ambassador Coconut Grove this afternoon, at tea-time, the occasion of the tooting being a tea-dance given for the benefit of the Hollywood Studio Club, which, you know, houses aspiring young picture actresses at a minimum rate, providing a real home for them.

Not to be outdone in kindness of heart, Marie Prevost will be present to pour, and this isn't all. She has coaxed Carl Laemmle into letting the Assistance League, who have the tea in charge, secure a preview of her latest Universal comedy, "Love and Riches."

As though this were not enough joy for one afternoon, we have further to announce that Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn will present the Denishawn Dancers in a series of beautiful and colorful dances, while Mme. Nativova, Pauline Frederick, Seaside Hayakawa, Kathleen Williams and Little Jackie Coogan will aid in entertainment.

Mrs. R. D. MacLean, Shakespearean star, will give a special reading. In addition to Wallace Reid's performance, a musical program will be given, including numbers by Kate Flynn, Almeda Torriani and Mrs. Charles Parker.

Ethel Clayton to Depart.

As soon as Ethel Clayton's present picture for Paramount is finished, the star is going to New York, she announced yesterday. The reason is that her contract with Paramount is completed, and she wishes to look more closely into a number of picture offers she has received from the East.

Following another twelve months in pictures, Miss Clayton hopes to go to Paris to live for a year at least. And then she expects to return to the stage in New York. She has two offers to go back to Broadway at the present time, but doesn't wish to do so at a while.

"I do eventually intend to return to the stage," said Miss Clayton, "and I mean to do so very seriously, not on the strength of a picture, but because of the really worthy work I hope to do."

Stage work will be no novelty to Miss Clayton, for, though perhaps few know it, Miss Clayton appeared in no less than three Broadway successes before entering pictures. The plays were "The Brute," "The Country Boy" and "His Name on the Door."

Miss Clayton was formerly noted for having a beautiful voice, but on the death of her husband four years ago it left her entirely, and she has never sung since. It was restored to her recently. She was compelled to sing in a scene of a picture she was in, in which she played the role of a concert singer. With a teacher she succeeded in coaxing back her voice, and she says that at present it is in better condition than ever before.

Tom Gallery Fills.

Tom Gallery, rising young juvenile, has left the picture colony flat. But only for the time being. He is the husband of Zasu Pitta, who at present is playing a leading role in support of Ethel Clayton at the Lasky Studio, and he has merely come to Chicago for a change to his mother, who has recently been ill there.

Marcus Loew is Near.

Marcus Loew will be in our midst tomorrow providing all goes well with the inbound train on which he is traveling. Two objects are Mr. Loew's visit. They are the opening of Loew's Theater, which will take place within the next few weeks, and the looking over of the Metro Studios, in which he owns a controlling interest.

"D. W." INSURES FOR SNOWSTORM.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—

David W. Griffith yesterday took out a $25,000 insurance policy for a snowstorm before November 20, it being necessary in a Griffith production now filming. Insurance men said yesterday that it was the first time a policy had been written in this country for a storm, although many had been written against storms.

The policy was issued through Frank Wilson, a broker with offices at 1476 Broadway, who divided the risk among eighteen subscribers. Contracts of several principals in the production expire November 20 and they are needed in the snowstorm scene. Al Grey, general manager of D. W. Griffith, Inc., negotiated the policy.

Breamer, Metro player, and hope to catch her alone, these days, you're going to be mighty mistakes. For Miss Breamer is well chaperoned, her father and mother having just arrived from Australia, not to mention her big brother Jack.

Though you may not know it, Miss Breamer's father is Judge A. G. Plunkett of Sydney, Australia.

Grace Darmond with Metro.

It doesn't look as though Grace Darmond were going to have time to do much shopping and tea-ing around for the next month at least. She has just signed up to play opposite Gareth Hughes in "Stay Home," a George D. Baker production, made for Metro.

Brown Returns to Work.

That plump gentleman of the films, William H. Brown, isn't going to have very much more time to fool around and play marbles. He's got to go back to work as star in the Scattergood stories, being co-ed by Edna Schray, a number of which were made last spring, and more of which are scheduled for fall, due to the fact that the first lot were immensely successful.

Universal Gets Badger.

Universal is busy, these days, gathering in the good ones. Now it's Clarence Badger, who directed Will Rogers in "Doubling for Rome" and many of the comedian's other successful pictures. He is preparing to start work at Universal City. He will make "Cupid Incog," a flapper comedy-drama starring Mabel Prichard.

The story is from the typewriter of no less versatile a genius than the young Irving G. Thalberg, who is able to achieve the difficult task of combining art and business.

REAL DICKENS ON THE SCREEN.

"Mutual Friend" Provides Fine Study in Adapting of Classics.

BY FREDERIC NORTH SHOREY.

Silas Wegg and his "veal and hammers," Noddy Boffin, the Golden Duetman with his suddenly acquired fortune, and beautiful and capricious Clara, who are living again at Clune's Broadway this week. Those lovers of Dickens who have not seen Adele Christo, the Norwegian Mary Pickford, in her portrayal of the daughter of patient "Rumty" Weller have missed a treat and a rare event. It is possible to see a literary classic so faithfully reproduced on the screen as is done in "Our Mutual Friend," Dickens's last completed novel.

Having in mind the awful experience of witnesses in "Treasure Island" a few months ago, as representing the limit of a movie atrocity, it was with some misgivings that I ventured forth to see what had been done with "Our Mutual Friend." Expecting the worst, in that

HALL CAIN MAY VISIT.

NOTED BRITISH NOVELIST TO SAIL FOR AMERICA SOON.

By Edwin Schallert.

The possibility that yet another famed author may shed the luster of his presence on the cinema colony is indicated in advice recently received from Hall Cain, who is to sail for America next month. Word of Mr. Cain's projected visit to this country was contained in cable advice received by the Goldwyn Company, who are arranging to start a production of the author's novel, "The Christian." The scenario was sent to Mr. Cain for his approval, and was recently returned from England.

It is known that Mr. Cain has expressed a desire to come into intimate contact with motion-picture production methods, and it is considered doubtful whether he will be satisfied with simply a survey of the Eastern studios before returning to Europe.

Travelers Return.

With many trophies of their trip and many tales of adventure, the members of the company formed by the Far East Productions to film a dramatic spectacle in the South Seas, returned to this city yesterday. A large delegation from the film colony was at the station to welcome them.

The members of the expeditionary troupe included W. F. Alder and S. M. Unander, organizer; Director Arthur Rosson and Mrs. Rosson, John Boyle, cameraman; Edward Hearn, Walt Whitman, Ruth Renick, Frederick Stanton, Harry Maynard and Shirley Williams.

The name of the film is "The Lagoon of Desires."

"Faudrory" Fronts.

After "The Three Musketeers"—"Little Lord Faudrory." That's the schedule of Fairbanks-Pickford features. The actual change in the bill is to be made Wednesday next at the Mission Theater.

"Faudrory" has been presented as one of the foremost of the productions made by Mary Pickford. In it she plays two different roles. The nature of the story afforded her an unusual opportunity for a child characterization.

"The Three Musketeers" will have premiered 421 performances at the withdrawal from the screen here Tuesday night. The film is regarded as Douglas Fairbanks's most successful.

Bride to Join Graves.

Mrs. Ralph Graves (Ralph now admits he's married.) will arrive in Los Angeles this week from New York, to join her husband. She will be making love to Colleen Moore at the Goldwyn studios, but she is expected to excuse that, since her husband is only doing what Rupert Hughes, the author, and Alfred Green, the director, instructed for an Irish story, now being filmed.

Mrs. Graves was formerly Miss Marjorie Seaman, a society girl of St. Paul and New York. She met the young leading man a year ago while sight-seeing at the Griffith studios.

Graves noticed Griffith staring at someone. The actor looked in the same direction and saw the girl who was later to become his wife. It was love at first sight. They were married secretly at high midnight in St. Paul, July 26, without the consent of the bride's parents. It was necessary to wake up the clerk and get him to come to the marriage license bureau.

Then Graves remained in St. Paul ten days under the trying condition of being chaperoned everywhere he went with his own wife, for papers and money were nothing of the wedding. Later his bride joined the leading man in New York. Although she had never appeared in pictures, her beauty and manner secured her an engagement in an eastern production, which she has just finished.

Posthumous Tucker Film.

"Ladies Must Live," the final production made by the late George Loane Tucker of "Miracle Man" fame, is to have its first showing here next week at Grauman's Theater. Owing to Mr. Tucker's ill health this picture was delayed for nearly a year in reaching the screen.

The cast is made up of Betty Compson, who is featured; Robert Ellis, Mahlon Hamilton, Leatrice Joy, Hardee Kirkland, Gibson Gowland, Jack Gilbert, Cleo Madison, Snitz Edwards, Lucille Hutton, Louis Warrenton, William Moon, Jack McDonald, Marcia Manon and Arnold Grigg.

Several of the players in the film have attained stellar or featured prominence since the time the picture was made.

Burbank Revue.

Principally specialty numbers—that's the line-up of entertainment being presented by the Hi Jinks Revue this week at the Burbank. The cast of principals is headed by Al Brown, and the chorus of twenty-five girls appear in a varied assortment of costumes.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Bankers Oppose Postal Savings Extension; Growth of Suburbs; Talk on Credits; Date Industry.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The American Bankers' Association went on record during the Los Angeles convention as opposed to the postal savings system. The resolution read:

"In sympathy with every movement which will promote the thrift and industry of our people we are nevertheless opposed to the proposed extension of the postal savings system on the ground that it will not and cannot draw out of hiding any considerable sums of money. The result will be the introduction of government into the banking business and will not assure to local communities the use of their savings funds for their own development."

This resolution, which has the practically unanimous backing of the Los Angeles bankers, was supported by an argument which included the following points:

(1) Increase of 1 or even 2 per cent in postal interest rates would not increase thrift and saving. It would not overcome the hoarding which results from fear of insurance or remote location.

(2) Hoarding of currency injures no one but the hoarder. Currency under the Federal Reserve system is so abundant that it is not worth a cent to the public to bring out whatever amount may now be actually hoarded.

(3) Banking facilities are far more extensive per capita of population in the more sparsely settled States than in the others. No lack of such facilities has been found, and probably cannot be found.

(4) The argument for the postal savings system is unquestionably sincere, but it is a type of that present marked tendency of groups of citizens to (a) assume a national need of isolated cases, (b) then assume that governmental action is necessary, (c) obtain the establishment of a new bureau at Washington, (d) if original plan fails, extend it on the theory that the government stands committed and quite regardless of the effect upon existing private agencies.

The Postmaster-General has declared the system's ten years of effort to be a failure. As pointed out by William B. Knott of New York's Bowery Savings Bank, the thousands of postal savings stations throughout the United States have now a total on deposit of only about one-half the amount of the 1920 net gain by the 146 mutual savings banks in the one State of New York—and the great bulk of postal deposits are in the New York City postoffice.

HOLLYWOOD AND ALHAMBRA.
Hollywood is a city within a city. Although a part and parcel of Greater Los Angeles the community spirit has been developed to a high degree in this important suburb.

Hollywood has its own stores, newspapers, transportation system, banks and latterly has acquired its own clearinghouse. From this source recent figures indicate something of the volume of business transacted in this district where for a six-day period the total amounted to $2,007,314.63, of which amount only $340,493.70 was drawn on banks outside of the community boundaries.

Alhambra is another fast growing suburb lying just beyond the Los Angeles corporate limits. The sound banking institutions in this place will soon be augmented by a third. Several important business blocks have recently been erected here; a $100,000 theater building is in process of construction and several Los Angeles stores are preparing to establish branches. Building records are broken every month; a large number of homes are being built, and the community's standing is the fastest growing in the Los Angeles district.

It is probable that some heavy financing will be required in the near future to meet the requirements imposed by this growth. New sewers and paving are becoming imperative needs, while the fire and police departments must be expanded. Several

CALIFORNIA DATES.

That the date industry in California is well founded, economically sound, and likely to show a great growth, seems to be the consensus of opinion of the financial men and economists who attended the recent date festival at Indio. C. E. Taylor of the Security Trust and Savings Bank was among those who took advantage of this opportunity to present first-hand and accurate information about the date industry.

"Among many people not familiar with commercial date culture," said Mr. Taylor yesterday, "there seems to be considerable misapprehension concerning the newest of California's fruit industries which is developing in the Coachella Valley. There is expressed doubt whether an American date industry can meet the competition of the date gardens of the Persian Gulf, from which most of this country's dates now come, and this he says, would not be sufficient to cause a ripple on the market."

The demand for dates will tend to far exceed the supply on account of the unusually short crop this year.

California's shipments of Valencia oranges will soon close and the early navel varieties from northern and central sections of the State are expected to start rolling around the middle of November, according to a statement issued by Dana C. King, orange sales agent of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

"Valencias are still the most profitable buy in the orange deal at the present time," said Mr. King yesterday. "If the record crop which California has produced this season is rapidly drawing to a close and it is estimated that most of the varieties of oranges will be cleaned out of this variety by the first of November. There will be a shortage of which will ship up until the middle of next month, when it is expected that the new crop of Navel will start rolling."

The increased shipments of Valencia oranges this summer from California was a great boon to both the trade and the consuming public who demand fresh fruits during the summer months, perhaps more than at any other time. In the face of shortened supplies of other fresh fruits this season, the California Valencia is a most desirable fruit.

From present indications in the various navel producing sections of California it appears that the 1935 crop of this variety will be a banner one.

HARBOR BOND SALE.
A premium of $40,640 was paid yesterday by a bond syndicate headed by Girvin & Miller for the $1,000,000 issue of Los Angeles Harbor Improvement 5 1/2 per cent bonds. This was the highest of the seven competitive bids, all offering a premium, received by the City Council.

Other members of the syndicate making the successful bid include the Anglo-London-Paris National Bank of San Francisco, Stacey & Brant, Eldredge & Company and the Kinell, Kinell & Company of New York. This purchase marks the third time that a syndicate headed by Girvin & Miller has bought Los Angeles harbor bonds. One previous issue was bought by this firm early last month, and another in 1929. As was the case in the earlier issues, many of these bonds are expected to go into the hands of eastern investors.

The second highest bid was made by a syndicate headed by Irving H. Hillman of Los Angeles and offered a premium of $36,460. The Citizens' National Bank came third with a bid of $32,592 and the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago fourth at $17,209.

Then came a syndicate composed of R. H. Moulton & Company, Los Angeles; Esterbrook & Company, Los Angeles; and R. L. Ray & Company with a bid of $17,120. Another syndicate composed of the Guaranty Company of New York; Halsey, Stuart &

Robert E. Hunter, president of Hunter & Co., is returning from an eastern trip, which included investment banker met a number of delegates to the American Bankers' Association convention and says that these men carried back to the East a definitely favorable impression concerning the general state of prosperity in Southern California, as well as the remarkable advance made by the convention city in recent months.

Mr. Hunter found substantial improvement in credit conditions throughout the East, as compared with a visit he made earlier in the year. A number of banks, for example, now have practically no paper repossessed with the Federal Reserve agencies. He cited the case of one large Chicago bank, which, six months ago, had over $100,000,000 of rediscount paper, and now has a clean slate.

This condition, of course, shows to what extent the liquidation of so-called frozen credits has gone and easily explains the general easing of money rates. Mr. Hunter argues that the situation is reflected in the good bond market enjoyed during the past two months throughout the country, as well as in the opening of many manufacturing plants, which have been closed down for some time.

He believes, are good indications that we are now on the threshold of a substantial business recovery.

AT HOME AND ABROAD.

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES,
Financial Editor New York "Times."

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The railway shares went somewhat lower on the stock exchange today; hardly, however, because of anything that happened at the conference at Chicago.

Presumably the market's attitude toward the railway shares indicated doubt as to the settlement in case rates are reduced again without further revision of wages. The earnings statements now in process of publication for September will throw some light on this.

Sterling exchange declined further to a rate 2 cents below this week's highest. German marks lost all of yesterday's moderate recovery, a fact which did not indicate any loss of confidence in the reports with which Wall Street was favored, that arrangements had been officially reached for postponing Germany's cash payments on the reparations.

Bearing undoubtedly on the general foreign exchange position, today's Washington figures on September were of interest. Our exports as a whole exceeded imports by $114,600,000, whereas the export surplus was $150,600,000 during August and $222,400,000 in September.

Results in trade with the recent belligerent states are especially significant. With England, our September export surplus was $18,000,000 less than that of August, and $58,000,000 less than a year ago. France (very slightly because of the cotton shortage) bought $20,000,000 more from us than in August, yet the excess of exports even to France was $25,000,000 less than in the previous September, and the nine months this year, $12,000,000 smaller—a remarkable result. With Germany our imports and exports last month were about the same as in August. As compared with September, 1929, however, our exports to that country increased $17,200,000, while our imports from her decreased $1,700,000. This is the poor testimony for the German invasion based on depreciated German money.

THE COUNTRY OVER.
PITTSBURG (Pa.) Oct. 26.—The gradual movement of industrial conditions toward normal is reducing the number of unemployed in this district and as a direct consequence retail trade is expanding. Believing that business was to be had in a large department store here in this month with a strenuous newspaper advertising campaign utilizing many pages of space. Every business day this month the sale of this store has exceeded those of the corresponding day a year ago. Merchants declare that it takes more effort to get business but that it is there if one stays after.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 26.—Wholesale and retail trade here has been showing big gains as a result of a rush by consumers to stock up in preparation for a possible rail strike. An idea of the upturn in business may be gained from the report of the Minnesota Transfer Company, which on Sunday transferred 2550 loaded cars, a new record. The transfer company handles shipments originating in the Twin Cities. The clothing business has been especially brisk. The largest clothing establishment in the Twin Cities is advertising that "business is great and we are in need of extra salesmen."

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The retail stores here are doing a big business in women's coats, suits and heavy wraps and also in men's clothing and overcoats. Gloves also are in strong demand as a class of dealers are lightly stocked is further indicated by the immediate effect the upturn in retail trade had on wholesale markets. One clothing manufacturer declared today he had done more business in the last two weeks than in July, August and September combined.

The outstanding news in the walnut industry is the reduction of freight rates with the exception of shipments to the southeastern section of the United States. This rate revision will mean a reduction in the price of walnuts to the consumer of almost 1 cent a pound, it is said. The revision, however, comes too late in the season to be of any particular benefit to the producer. According to Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' Association, nearly three-fourths of this year's crop will have been shipped by November 3, the date that the new rate goes into effect.

Walnut shipments are still progressing at about the same rate as last week. An average of forty-two cars a day has been reported out of the Southern California district. By November 1, the association expects to be able to determine whether or not it will have any surplus to offer over its original estimate of this season's crop. This estimate placed the crop at 19,000 tons and the entire crop has been sold up to the limit of that figure.

Mr. Thorpe does not believe that the position of the date industry is so good as it appears. He says that the date crop would be more than 10 per cent, and this he says, would not be sufficient to cause a ripple on the market. The demand for walnuts will tend to far exceed the supply on account of the unusually short crop this year.

Providing the Daily Necessities for Communities

SERVING Gas and Electricity for the daily needs of large numbers of people is a very essential industry. The nature of the business makes for great stability.

The population of any community can grow no more rapidly than its utility companies can provide gas and electricity.

On the other hand, as the community grows the corporation expands to take care of new customers. This growth, which is in direct proportion to the increase in population is the most natural growth that can be enjoyed by any business.

Los Angeles Gas & Electric Corporation, Western California Gas Company, Central Arizona Light and Power Corporation are all growing communities.

We have loaned money to companies to provide the growth.

We are offering a number of the bonds of the mentioned companies at a yield from 7% to 8%.

For full information on these bonds, write to us at

OIL STRIKERS ARE INDICTED.

Nine True Bills Are Voted by Fresno County Jury.

Charges Said to be Burglary,
Kidnaping, Assault.

Call Two Hundred Witnesses to Give Testimony.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FRESNO, Oct. 26.—The Fresno county grand jury, called in session today to investigate activities of those connected with outbreaks in the Collings section in the oil-strike, voted nine indictments, which have not been returned, it was learned tonight. The indictments charge burglary, kidnaping and assault with a deadly weapon, it was reported.
Two hundred witnesses were summoned to appear before the jury to testify as to the conditions in the strike area. They were subpoenaed by Dep. Dist. Atty. Penn Cummings.
BLOW TO STRIKERS.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 26.—Oil operators here who have contended ever since the beginning of the oil workers' strike that the government will not take a hand in it, now point to a significant statement from Washington on the threatened railroad strike as showing clearly the attitude of the President and the administration in regard to using wartime powers to deal with labor troubles.
The main object of the present strike is to make the government a party to an agreement with oil companies by a continuation of wartime powers of an oil mediation board. The strikers have been daily expecting word from Washington that would strengthen their position.

ANSWER TO UNIONS.
The unions, in the opinion of the operators, now have a conclusive answer in the statement of the President in which he declines to use war measures in dealing with labor troubles. The dispatch from Washington says:
"President Harding will not involve wartime powers to deal with the threatened railroad strike. The President made this emphatically clear at the Cabinet meeting when suggestions were made that authority exists for him to take over the railroads and run them in the event of a strike."
Several oil-operating heads here said today they believe this will have a helpful effect in showing the unions how much can be expected in keeping alive measures the operators and the unions, both voluntarily agreed to live up to during the war, and they believe such information when understood by the men will help to shorten the strike.

POSTOFFICE STATION PLAN STRIKES SNAG.

TREASURY ARCHITECTS ARE OPPOSED TO TERMINAL
IN LOS ANGELES.

While postoffice officials are in favor of the plan for a terminal station for the Los Angeles Postoffice at Third street and Central avenue, a snag was struck yesterday in the opposition of the supervising architect's office in the Treasury Department, say dispatches from Washington.
Congressman Osborne, accompanied by Senators Shortridge and Johnson and Congressman Lineberger, will have a hearing today to see if the opposition can be overcome. In view of the opposition of the Treasury, the budget director has planned to send another inspector to Los Angeles.
The statement is made that the price for the site is too high, while at the same time expenditures in other cities at much higher rates are now being authorized. On a square-foot basis, the project is regarded as very advantageous by the Postoffice Department.
This is the first real tangle between the director of the budget and the Postoffice Department, and the fact is sure to fly today when the opposition will have a chance to state its objections.

SERVICE MEN TO HONOR DEAD

Pasadena Veterans Announce Memorial Service.

Noted Artist Head of Crown City School.

War Talk Brings Room-mates to Blows.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
PASADENA, Oct. 26.—Memorial services for the soldiers, sailors and marines who died in the great war will be held by the Pasadena Veterans of the American Legion on the morning of Armistice Day, November 11, said Allen E. Eddy, commander of the post, today.

The services will be held in the post hall on North Broadway at 10 o'clock. Dr. C. D. Lockwood, who was a major in the overseas medical corps during the war, is in charge of the program.

HEADS ART SCHOOL.
Lucile Lloyd (Mrs. Addison Brown) has been appointed resident director of the Rickenbacker Memorial School of Art here by the Pasadena Music and Art Association, under whose auspices the institution is conducted.

The new director announces that its function will be broadened to make it a real community school of art, with classes for children and high school students, as well as the customary classes in various branches of art for adults. Mrs. Brown herself is an artist of wide reputation.

ROOM-MATES HAVE BATTLE.
Henry Walsh, aged 49, is at Pasadena Hospital, with serious cuts on his head and his room-mate, Carmine Giannetti, aged 59, is in the City Jail on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. It is charged that Giannetti beat Walsh with a club in their room in a lodging-house at Marengo and Colorado streets this morning, following an argument over the late war.

Walsh is an Austrian and Giannetti an Italian, the police say. Both are employed as painters in a local hotel.

SALARY GRANTED CENSOR.
A salary of $100 a month will be paid to the chief censor of the Municipal Board for Cinema Censors, and $25 to the other members of the board. The City Directors today amended the ordinance to carry these salary provisions. The salaries will be paid from the new seat tax voted on yesterday by the board.

CLOSE HARMONY IN JAIL.
A male quartet adept in topical and classical numbers has been organized in the City Jail. L. J. Welland, charged with forgery, is first tenor; Ray Mullin, charged with passing fictitious checks, is second tenor; Earl Turner, colored, is first bass; and Henry P. Wilsey, charged with forgery, is second bass.

SAYS A LOT BY KEEPING STILL.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
VENTURA, Oct. 26.—Antonio Soares has filed an answer to his wife's suit for divorce, in which he says he will not bring the charges against her that she could.

He also says in the same document that he is willing to become reconciled to her and wants their home life to go on as before.

He is taking this attitude, he says, for the children's sake. Though his wife, he alleges, has acted in the past year or two in a manner unbecoming a wife and mother, he will not make public any accusations against her.

Chief of Police C. H. Kelley, the manager, says it is unlikely that the quartet will be available for engagements this season.

INQUEST WILL BE HELD.
A coroner's inquest into the death of Nicholas Henderson, who died here from injuries received in an automobile collision in Los Angeles Sunday, will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at Reynolds & Eberle's undertaking rooms. Mr. Henderson's car was struck by a taxicab.

If you have an idea that Grace Nicholson's Treasure House of Oriental Art at 46 N. Los Robles ave., Pasadena, is an ordinary shop, like thousands of other gift shops found in many cities, you surely have some surprise coming when you enter this famous shop, unlike any other in the world. There are fourteen large rooms filled with marvelous antiques, art objects and house decorations from China, Korea, Tibet, Sumatra, Java, Burma and old Japan. Collectors and treasure hunters with a hobby are specially invited to visit the shop.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
VENTURA, Oct. 26.—Ventura is to have an Elk lodge. Many members of the Santa Barbara antlered herd are residents of this county and for some months past the matter of a Ventura county lodge has been agitated. Both Ventura and Orland have strongly favored the move.

Yesterday word came to L. E. Hall, county clerk and a prominent Elk, that the necessary papers for the installation of Ventura lodge No. 1430 B.P.O.E. are now on their way. A big meeting will be held at the Annapolis Hotel Wednesday evening preliminary to organization here.

PLAYERS REHEARSE PAGEANT.

First Desert Play Planned for Production Near Palm Springs.

LEGION IS VICTIM OF SWINDLERS.

Warrant Charges Brothers With Taking Automobile Offered as Prize.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
PALM SPRINGS, Oct. 26.—They are to give a play out in the desert, in Tahquits Canyon, just a mile from Palm Springs, the first play given by white men on the desert. The dates are to be November 5 and 6 and Garnet Holmes, well-known director, is busy working his cast for the play.

The first play to be given is called "Fire," an Indian legend put into dramatic form by Mary Austin. The play is founded on an old legend of the coming of the desert. The story is of a man, Coyote, who is the spirit of mankind. Driven by the cold of the winter nights the tribes seek fire burning in a vast wilderness high in the mountains. The young man, Evid, alone dares dare near. He falls, scorched by the consuming element but his faithful companion, Coyote, snatches a burning brand. Evid demands admittance to the tribe and the hand of one of the maidens. His requests are granted on the conditions that he separate himself from his brute friend, Coyote.

He succeeds to the request, but later finds himself unable to live with his chosen wife, deprived of his old companion. The tribesmen turn upon him and Evid is driven forth to solitude with the beast, Coyote. His wife Laela follows and the three set forth into the unknown. The allegory is based upon the fact that the spiritual and physical sides of mankind are complementary and both are necessary to the highest development of man.

The townspeople of Palm Springs are looking forward with enthusiasm to this production. A meeting of citizens took place last week to form detailed arrangements for the affair. Committees were appointed and the general work that such a play usually entails is being carried out in fine shape. Those who will work on the various committees are: Mrs. H. L. Coffman, Mrs. J. J. Koecker, Mrs. George Robertson, Mrs. A. Parker, Miss H. Coffman, Otto Adler, A. F. G. McManus, Dr. J. J. Koecker, Carl Lyk, Mrs. Ed Bunker, Earl Gray, Mrs. W. Cody, Mrs. DeVore, Mrs. J. Gray, Mr. Bill Jay, Mr. Thomas, Joe Farnholme.

Mr. Holmes is holding his preliminary rehearsal in Redlands. But the principal people of the cast will depart for Palm Springs the middle of next week where they will camp so as to have several days' work on the stage among the big boulders and cacti.

PROMPT ACTION PREVENTS DAMAGE.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
REDLANDS, Oct. 26.—Two fires that would have resulted in damage had they not been promptly extinguished, gave the firemen a busy time here last night.

The most dangerous blaze was in an alley in the heart of the business section. Papers and wrappings had been thrown into a great pile which was just under a wooden stairway. Some one had thrown a cigarette into the pile and when the night policeman found the blaze it was spreading to the stairway.

The second was at the home of Prof. E. Ray Nichols of the University of Redlands. This fire started from the fireplace and had burned half the night when Prof. Nichols was awakened by the smoke. A big blaze had been started but it was put out before great damage was done.

CITY SHOCKED BY NEW DANCE.

Peabody Place Starts Riot at Long Beach.

First Exposition Results in Arrests.

Recently Enacted Ordinance to be Tested.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] LONG BEACH, Oct. 26.—This city has been rudely shocked at the first appearance here of the Peabody Place, also by the costume worn in the same connection by the feminine participants in this most recent and popular of New York's dances.

So startled was Policewoman Straw when she witnessed the initial and unheralded exhibition of the Gotham terpsichorean craze in a local dance hall that she arrested the couple performing the maneuver and caused them to be booked at the police station on a charge of violating the local dancing ordinance. They were released on bail for their appearance in court.

The Peabody Place is said to be popular in New York society circles at this time. Mr. E. Schapari, who recently arrived from the nation's metropolis, dropped in to a local dancing pavilion and caused the natives to crowd up to the rail, stand up on chairs and other places of vantage to gaze at the innovation direct from the East. The dance itself is a sort of a renovated tango, but because it is different from the tangle of today, it attracted much notice. What attracted more notice were the pantaloons worn by Mrs. Schapari. They were bright green, according to reports received by the police, and hung down low—perilously low—over the policeman. Beside they had ruffles and were the subject of much comment by the men.

As a result of the arrest the dance hall ordinance enacted a few months ago by the preceding administration will be given its first court test. Mr. and Mrs. Schapari declare they were innocent of any wrong doing and will fight the case. They have retained Attorney E. E. Tinscher, who, strangely enough, was one of the framers of the ordinance he is now attacking. He was Commissioner of Public Welfare under the preceding administration and constituted, with Commissioner Peck, the municipal committee that, with representatives of the Y.W.C.A. and women's clubs of the city, drafted the ordinance.

Whether the Peabody Place and Peabody costume will be permitted to be viewed in public in Long Beach in the future will be decided in Judge Carl Hawkins' court tomorrow. Mrs. Schapari has volunteered to show the judge just what the several hundred spectators and Policewoman Straw witnessed at the dance.

STUDENTS BECOME ACTIVE BOOSTERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] VENICE, Oct. 26.—A junior chamber of commerce was organized at the Venice Union Polytechnic High School this noon by John Dillon, secretary of the Venice Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of the organization, whose membership is limited to high school students, is to advance the interests of the high school and of the community in general. The junior chamber will take charge of Venice community clean-up campaigns and the preparation of Venice exhibits for the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, the San Bernardino Orange Show and other events in which the city is represented by an exhibit, according to tentative plans outlined today. Officers will be elected and standing committees chosen at once to begin the work which will give the students practice in taking part in civic affairs.

NEW OIL FIELD. [LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] HERMOSA BEACH, Oct. 26.—Citizens of this city are pleased by a report that the Standard Oil Company has bought one and one-quarter acres just inside the eastern city limits and it is expected that drilling will be started within the next thirty days.

It has long been contended that there was oil in the vicinity of this purchase, and the sale has awakened renewed enthusiasm.

CAN'T USE BABY AS COLLATERAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] SAN DIEGO, Oct. 26.—A baby cannot be held because its parents have not paid its board bill. That was the ruling made today by Superior Judge S. M. Marsh when Mrs. Ellen Smith was ordered to bring into court on habeas corpus proceedings little Dorothy Mae Walker, whom she had kept for several months, the bill being $60. Testimony was given that Mrs. Muriel Walker and her husband, separated last March and that Mrs. Walker left the baby with Mrs. Smith. Recently the parents became reconciled and Mrs. Walker started proceedings to get the baby back.

RIVERSIDE ASKS FOR GOVERNMENT HEARING.

WOULD DISCUSS BOULDER DAM DURING MEETING OF LEAGUE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] RIVERSIDE, Oct. 26.—Following the announcement yesterday that the next convention of the League of the Southwest would be held in this city December 8, 9 and 10, the Chamber of Commerce, Business Men's Association and the Board of Supervisors have dispatched telegrams to Secretary of the Interior Fall, asking that the government hearing on the Boulder dam project take place here at the same time.

Organizations at Redlands and San Bernardino are understood to have sent similar telegrams in support of this suggestion. The hearing on the Kinkead Act, which relates to the Boulder dam project, was to have been held in Washington, but the decision to hold the hearing here, it is believed, will have a strong influence on bringing the hearing to this city. If the request of the civic organizations mentioned is granted, three organizations interested in the Colorado project will hold sessions here concurrently. The Interstate Colorado River Commission having decided to hold its meeting at the time the League of the Southwest might decide upon.

Most of the day was devoted to examining of jurymen, about fifty being called. Weed's case, originally set for October 11, was postponed to permit near counsel for the defendant to study the case. The charge is one of several arising out of his alleged relations with little girls in Tulare schools. District Attorney Scott is personally conducting the prosecution.

WAIT TRIAL IN ONTARIO CITY JAIL.

Four Held on Moonshining Charge Fail to Furnish Bond Money.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] ONTARIO, Oct. 26.—Albert Hanna (Kid Carson), Sadie Stein, W. B. Randall and Louisa Randall, arrested Saturday in a raid on a wholesale whiskey still in the house which they were occupying at 221 West D street, are held in jail this afternoon to await trial following their arraignment before Judge George R. Holbrook.

Hanna and Stein woman were arranged on two counts, that of violating the city liquor ordinance and adultery. Their bail was fixed at $1000 each, in lieu of which they were returned to jail. The Randalls were charged with violating the city liquor laws and their bail was fixed at $250 each. Attorney Ralph Swing of San Bernardino appeared as counsel for the defendants, all of whom demanded separate jury trials on the liquor counts. Trial dates will be arranged by City Attorney Ben F. Warner.

The date for the preliminary hearing of Hanna and the Stein woman on the felony charge will be arranged to suit the convenience of the District Attorney's office. The woman's children Evelyn, aged 5, and Frederick, aged 3, are being cared for at the county detention home. The accused were arrested in a raid conducted by city and county officers in which several large copper kettles and other paraphernalia necessary to the manufacture of which were taken into custody.

INDIAN SCHOOL MAKES SHOWING.

REPORT SHOWS MANY DATA CONCERNING INTERESTING INSTITUTION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] RIVERSIDE, Oct. 26.—The enlargement of Sherman Institute, which last year accommodated 512 Indian boys and girls, representing thirty-five tribes scattered through twelve Western States, is recommended to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs in a report just submitted by Supt. F. M. Conner.

The report contains some interesting items showing how the services rendered by the students in conjunction with their training saves the government many thousands of dollars in the operation of the mail. It is estimated that $55,000 has been saved in building operations alone during the last ten years by reason of the help afforded by student carpenters and masons. The tailoring, shoe and harness shops are other industrial departments which are given credit for saving the government thousands of dollars.

Due to the operations of the agricultural department, the per capita cost of food the past year has been kept down to $46. During the same period farm products to the value of more than $25,000 have been raised by the students. The need of additional land for the farm school is emphasized in the report. All clothing, except underwear and hose for girls, is made in the girls' industrial departments. The mending, as the report indicates, is no small item in itself for an institution which at the present time has 750 enrolled.

The outfit system, under which the students are given employment, enabled the boys and girls to earn an aggregate of $38,890.44 during the year just closed.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26.—The presentation of "The Miracle" by the California Opera Company at the new Municipal Auditorium in the Ocean Park district, last night was a success. This is the first event of its kind to be staged in the auditorium since its recent opening. Twenty other musical events are already scheduled to be given there this winter. The city's part of the proceeds is used for maintenance and to apply on the bonded indebtedness of $175,000, which the Ocean Park district voted last year for the erection of the building and plaza.

BUTTONLATH is identified by the small buttons or knobs of plaster, which jut out from the surface—72 to the square foot. These buttons do a great deal more than serve as earmarks to distinguish Buttonlath from ordinary lathing material. They perform the important work of holding the wall firmly together, by gripping the plaster mechanically, and uniting with it chemically at the same time, forming a unified combination with it.

Buttonlath

The strongest proof of Buttonlath supremacy as a lathing material is the overwhelming number of fine buildings with Buttonlath walls. Hotels, apartment houses, schools, churches, theaters, mansions, bungalows—buildings widely diversified in character and impressive in numbers, are being made fire-proof, heat-proof, cold-proof, damp-proof and noise-proof through the use of Buttonlath.

Being easily and quickly applied, Buttonlath saves time and money.

What Women Are Doing in Widening Fields of New Endeavor.

SPEAKERS RAP MODERN MODES.

Singing and Talking Here Are Sharply Criticized.

Professor Urges More Reading of Old Novelists.

Ebell Club Hears What We Lack in Graces:

BY MYRA NYE.

"The average man of Los Angeles does not know a quarter note from a hat pin."

"The male chorus, the Ebell Club and the woman's chorus, the Lyric Club, do not sing a number through in concert without getting off the stage repeatedly and the accompanist plays nothing but discord."

"The thousand or so young people who entered the freshmen class of the University of California, Southern Branch, this fall, use the most incorrect English ever in the history of the State University and this condition is growing worse every year."

These three startling criticisms were made yesterday at the guest luncheon of the Ebell Club following the session of the drama section. Miss Antoinette Ruth Sabar, who had a lieutenant's commission in the United States Army in the music department, recently chosen by the Chamber of Commerce as the head of the Bureau for Industrial Music for Los Angeles, made the first statement. Prof. F. N. Ahrends, who has led huge choruses in Pittsburgh and New York, and who has frequently served as judge in musical festivals of Europe, made the second, and Dr. Frederic T. Blanchard, head of the English department in the southern branch of the State University, made the last statement.

URGES SOLID READING.

"The only way to keep the language pure is to read the old classics," he said. "But our young people do not even know their names. They are well up in the modern dances, but of Thackeray and Dickens they know nothing."

"Too often we make of our schools and universities nothing but pedagogical expedient stations of things ultramodern, but of no lasting value," continued Dr. Blanchard, urging that the women stay away from club meetings occasionally to read to the young people in their homes some of the works of the old novelists.

"It is a sad commentary on our present civilization that the great objection made to Normal Hill as a site for our Public Library is that it will be too steep for the old people to climb. Only old people are seen reading in the Public Library today. Miss Sabar told of a questionnaire she had sent out concerning music to all the industries.

"The result is, she said, 'that I find no industrial music in Los Angeles.' Miss Sabar is planning for a great musical festival to be given in the city next spring when she hopes that those who labor in shops will bring music to the sidewalk and the men and women will love and interpret Wagner, Handel, Gounod and Cadman.

Mrs. William Reed was the toastmistress introduced by Mrs. Charles Tell. Mrs. Reed in turn introduced Mrs. Ada Van Raalte, current speaker in the drama section. Of these and Miss Sabar, Prof. Ahrends, whose subject was "Training the Speaking Voice," said:

"It has never been my pleasure to attend a public meeting where the voices of all the speakers were so well modulated, so apparently well-trained, as those who have spoken today."

THE FRIDAY MORNING CLUB.

"The Friday Morning Club, with all its talk, has never voted to build a clubhouse," said Mrs. A. S. Lebling, president of the club, in announcing the business meeting which will be held during the program hour tomorrow morning.

"A mortgage build was not made before because we were waiting to see if our financial resources would justify such action. We have now in the bank $15,000 in the clubhouse fund. If we vote to build we will be obliged to erect an expensive building, for the law requires that any building that seats more than 900 persons must be fireproof. If the club votes to raise the dues at this business meeting, we shall be able to proceed with the building because we can borrow $150,000 and we should have sufficient income to pay the interest on that amount. Thus we should have $225,000 and could start building at once.

"The November meetings include a song recital by Marie Bashian, soprano, making her first appearance in Los Angeles. Born in Constantinople she came to this country in 1915 and has sung with great success in the 'Ebbel' Club."

George Rupert MacMinn, contributor to many magazines and professor of English in the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, will lecture on "Joseph Conrad." Gertrude Workman will produce three of the latest one-act plays and the last meeting will be a discussion of the library site with the speakers announced as Luther Ingels, Sumner P. Hunt, H. S. McKee and Walter Lindley.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-Date:

"A 'tone poem' in accessories that turned into a thing of vivid beauty a rather nondescript outfit of gray tweeds and, incidentally, made the girl wearing the tweeds the cynosure of all eyes observant of good dressing. The accessories included a short, club-handled umbrella in the red-purple fuchsia tint, a fairly stimulating in its richness; a matching handbag of once leather; a silk scarf, the fuchsia tint of which was thrown into relief by striped ends of orange and gray; and a cloche-shaped hat of soft gray felt, ornamented with a perky silk cockade of fuchsia.

The umbrella which, one suspects, will often answer the purpose of a smart stick that a main professor, is carried on the wrist by a leather thong which lends an air of solid practicality to what would otherwise seem an attractive toy.

And, speaking of tweeds. The dealers of the exclusive specialty shops, where the best examples of these rough-and-ready clothes for outdoor women are carried, complain they are unable to get enough to supply the demands of their customers. This is true of the knicker and jackets that milady of the golf links and the morning center is going in for, as it is of the less new skirt-and-jacket walking suits. A leaf, this, from the book of our British cousins, who have always appreciated the value of, and in, tweeds.

Now Is the Time to Buy:

Nainsook and fine cottons of all the weaves desirable for the fashioning of lingerie. These, together with the hand-made laces to trim them and the narrow, two-toned ribbons which give the final touch of "French" elegance to a dainty gown, are available, at the present, at a tithe of last summer's prices. The woman with a gift in the use of the needle knows, if she employs the three or four quiet weeks preceding the pre-Christmas rush, in constructing sundry irreplaceable "nainsook" out of the fine cottons she may purchase for less, just now, the sisters and cousins and aunts who are receivers of her holiday bounty will rise up and call her blessed with greater fervor than if she had presented them with shares in a diamond mine.

Bargains the most enticing to the skilled needlewoman, also, are stamped counterpanes and scarves and pillow tops of unbleached muslin being offered this week in the needlework department of that all-encompassing establishment in the heart of the downtown shopping district. Nothing more stunning than one of these boudoir sets of applied and embroidered creamy cotton may be pictured, used in a roomier bed, and there is a completed sample to be used as a guide in arranging your color scheme.

The Newest Decolletage.

From cuts of late Paris frocks, which came to me the other day straight as the ship could steer from a port of France, showed a heretofore not used shoulder line for evening wear. It was the bateau neck of this month and last month and several months before that—the line that, despite of the fact it is trying to nise women out of every ten, seems to be beloved of the makers of one-piece gowns—scooped out by several inches, and as irregular as the skirt hem of the moment. This, inasmuch as one shoulder entirely emerged from the bodice top while its twin remained coyly covered.

The new decolletage. In its on-again-off-again effect, was in rather startling contrast to the harness dresses we have grown accustomed to through a spring and summer, and which cover the collar bone in front and veer off at the back. Its oddness in the pictured cut intrigued me. A few days later, and behold! a model in that oldest and most conservative of Los Angeles specialty shops (showing how our local style cutters are as couant in a fashion way), exhibits the off-shoulder decolletage in a dream of a sand-colored frock, garnished with monkey. The irregular bodice top is outlined, in this instance, with a fringe of the fur, which is also used on the edge of the skirt hem and on the panels

All orders will be handled by this branch office in Chicago and in order to eliminate the delay in forwarding we have arranged to have orders sent direct to the Chicago office.

The frock material is one of those exquisite, velvet-like cloths created by one of the French textile makers who, like the Rodiers, takes as a serious study and a fine art the manufacturing of frock fabrics.

Charming Draperies.

In connection with beautiful fabrics, this seems the place to speak of the new shadow-warp chintzes, which the interior decorators—those superior beings of the house-furnishing world, in the presence of whom we are prone to assume a becoming meekness of men when we are a bit uncertain as to the distinguishing ear-marks of Tudor and Georgian pieces and when we are just about the number of Chipendale periods are assuring us are quite the thing just now, for hanging.

They are altogether lovely, as well, in their soft grays and pinks and old blues; their strange, exotic-looking birds perched on frail twigs of impossible trees; and the peonies and wall flowers—so entirely English—being in the foreground, standing out, as if thrown into relief by a sunbeam, from a background of broken lattice work.

A breakfast room that (under any name and in any country, it would be a dream.) I saw the other day, was hung in the sort of a double-faced, unfading chintz. Pink and mauve ran together in the drapery, against a gray back tone, and the gray was picked up by the walls of the room. There was also a gray leaf table and Windsor-backed chairs were painted in the mauve shade of the chintz with tiny flower-pot motifs, done in orange and blue, for decoration. A high, narrow side table of the painted wood held a pair of dull gold and gray candlesticks, which gave the room a touch of the whole.

La Mode Mentions That:

There is a decided tendency toward the fuller skirt.

Corn-colored lingerie makes a successful appearance.

A coat frock of navy blue is trimmed in cherry color.

Coat frock models feature long-pointed apron draperies.

Sandal shoes and strap slippers continue to be favorites.

Most of the newest fur wraps are three-quarters length.

Heavy twisted silk cord fringe is used in the form of tunics.

CHICKEN-COME-CLOCK.

This is an old Kildare version of Fox and Geese, with variations. One player, the Sawney Fox, hides behind a post or a tree. The other players gather in a circle around a stone, stoop down, clasp hands and chant together:

Chicken-come-clock around the rock;

Leary, Lurey, Lowry lock;

Five-mile-road and I o'clock.

Who shall dare to fight Kildare?

Two o'clock by all the clocks;

Watch the thiefing Sawney Fox!

Three o'clock and all is well;

Blow the horn and ring the bell.

Four o'clock—no time to lose;

word for it!
never know how delicious
Flakes can be till you eat Kellogg's

It is the most joyously good any time—man or woman or child ever put in their mouths flavor, such crispness! Such big sunny-kissed flakes! How you'll relish a generous bowl of —over-flowing, and a pitcher of milk or cream —over was such a set-out! Never did you get such universal vote as there'll be for Kellogg's Corn Flakes! Big folks and little folks will say "Kellogg's —and yours! Prove out all we say!

For, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a infinitely more than what you pay for it.

A platinum and diamond cased watch that will the watch in which such variation exists will always register a continuous loss or gain?

Large Crowds Admire
Flower Show Offerings;
"Brides" to Pass in Review.

Bridal bouquets worth as much as $100 apiece, and carried by beautiful motion-picture stars, will be the foremost attraction at the California Flower Show and Horticultural Exhibition tonight. It will be brides' night, and the leading stars of Southern California are vying with each other to produce the most beautiful bridal bouquets.

Some of the bouquets will be so large the young women will have to carry them with both hands. Pretty little flower girls will strew posies in their path as the exhibition brides pass in review. Hand-some prizes are offered for the finest exhibits in the contest.

Yesterday afternoon the Board of Supervisors paid the flower show a visit and then went to the sunken gardens of Exposition Park to look over the flowers and see what conclusion could be reached as to the best way in which to perpetuate the ten acres of beautiful plants which are now in bloom there. The nurserymen of the Southland have signified their willingness to co-operate with the supervisors in every way possible in order to perpetuate the wonderful sunken flower gardens which have been created there. Last night the board had arrived at no definite conclusion regarding the problem.

While Tuesday's attendance, estimated at 20,000, broke all records for the show, last night's crowd brought yesterday's attendance up to a high mark. Thousands visited the floral exhibition last night, many for the purpose of seeing the shower of roses. The management gave away more than 10-600 rose blooms to the women and children.

With fresh posies being placed yesterday, the show will run at full blast until Sunday night.

Tomorrow afternoon a group of society women will judge the innumerable table decorations which are a unique feature of the exhibition. Dozens of dining-room tables, properly set, are glorified by wonderful floral centerpieces. Here the housekeeper can learn how to arrange any kind of flowers from Shasta Daisies and Marigolds to American Beauty roses into something beautiful for her dinner table. The display is decidedly educational, as well as pleasing to the eye.

F. C. BROWN OF KANSAS CITY
THINKS WIFE HERE; ASKS HER TO RETURN HOME.

"My Dear Sweet Wife: If the editor of The Times prints this letter, as I have asked him to do, and you should read it, you will know how I have missed you since you disappeared from No. 1909 Holmes street, Kansas City, five months ago. I waited in vain for your return or for some word as to your whereabouts. At last, only a few days ago, some one whispered to me that he believed you had gone to California. I came to this State immediately and have searched everywhere for you, but it seems I am doomed to failure. I am now in Bakersfield, where, a few days ago, I heard that you had been seen in Los Angeles. If you are there I hope and pray that you will see this letter and that you will come back to me—for I need you and miss you. I am starting back to Kansas City, Mo., tonight, and will go again to the little place that I once called home, and wait for you. Always your loving husband,

"F. C. BROWN."

The above letter received yesterday tells its own pathetic story. Holmes street will be "Homeless street" for F. C. Brown until the light of his home, Mrs. Lillie Brown, comes back.

RAIL MAN'S WIFE DIES.

Mrs. Sadie L. Isaacs, for Many Years Resident Here, Passes On.

Mrs. Sadie L. Isaacs, wife of Harry Isaacs, 1633 Sixth avenue, veteran assistant general baggage agent of the Santa Fe, died yesterday afternoon at the family residence after long illness. She was born in Sacramento seventy-one years ago and had passed most of her life in California. She was married to Mr. Isaacs nearly half a century ago and came to Los Angeles not many years afterward. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel of H. W. Brothers. The body will be cremated.

Mrs. Isaacs left the widower and three children, Mrs. T. O. Johnson, Harry Isaacs, Jr., and Fred Isaacs, all of Los Angeles.

An orchestra of twenty-four pieces, with Henric Von Stein as director, has been organized to open this afternoon at the Kinema Theater. All its members are nonunion men and none has ever played before in a Los Angeles theater. It was stated yesterday. According to the director, every man is an accomplished musician and superior to the union men who walked out.

It was also announced yesterday by Secretary Francis Woodward of the Los Angeles Theaters' Association that a forty-piece orchestra, being rehearsed for Grauman's Theater and a thirty-piece one for the California. Both will be ready to play within a week or so.

"We are having no difficulty in obtaining musicians to fill every vacant place," said Mr. Woodward. "It will be only a few days until all the theaters will have better orchestras than before the strike. Most of the house managers tell me they have been able to secure men superior to those who walked out." It was reported that a movement to call off the strike and accept the theater's terms had been started. It was urged that a new committee be named and that negotiations be again opened with the theater association.

FOR every man there is one bank to which he refers when he says, "My Bank."

Circumstances may sometimes compel him to give his patronage elsewhere for a time, but as soon as he can he comes back to his bank. He notes its growth and progress with pleasure and he recommends it to his friends.

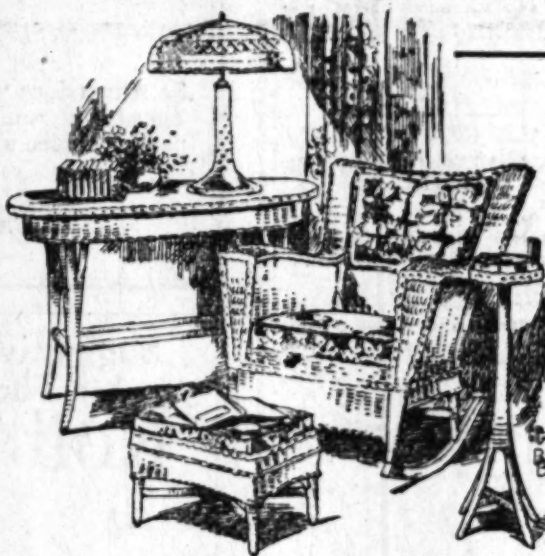

To over 100,000 depositors the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank is the one bank. Action Results From Raid on Cafe Monday Night.

Art Hickman Confers With Federal Attorney.

Upon the result of a conference to be held this morning between California Prohibition Director Mitchell and Asst. U. S. Atty. Herron, who has charge of the liquor prosecutions in the United States Attorney's office, will depend whether it will be the future policy of the office to issue warrants for the arrest of persons found drinking their own liquor in public places of resort. The argument in favor of such action is that the individuals are violators of the law—either in having liquor in their possession or in having transported it to the place where found. They can take either horn of the dilemma. A stiff fine or imprisonment or both is provided for the violation of either feature of the prohibition statute.

There is a strong feeling in favor of invoking the law against this class of violators, but whether this will be done remains to be determined. Art Hickman, the orchestra leader, who was in the Marcel Cafe when a raid was made Monday night, was a caller at the office of Mr. Herron yesterday, and spent a half hour with that official. Nothing is known as to what passed between them, but it is understood that the situation at the Marcel Cafe was discussed.

Director Mitchell was scheduled to take part in the heart-to-heart talk with Mr. Hickman, but the orchestra leader did not meet that official.

COLLISION BRINGS DAMAGES.

Mrs. Lillian Snyder was awarded $1885 damages in Justice J. P. Wood's court yesterday in a suit against E. S. Stephens as the result of injuries she suffered when a stage, upon which she was a passenger, was run into from the rear by Mr. Stephens' automobile. The defense was that the driver of the stage was negligent.

LACK OF STAMP COSTS HIM WIFE.

Cowboy's Love Note to Girl Comes Back as a Sponse Opens It; Divorce.

There is one girl in Upland who did not receive a love note Jack Williams is said to have written her. The reason became known in Judge Sumnerfield's court yesterday when Mrs. Julia Williams was granted a divorce from John S. Williams.

Mr. Williams, a cowboy, neglected to put a stamp on the love note. The letter came back and was opened by Mrs. Williams, who produced it in court. It read in part: "My heart makes me want to be with you all the time. I surely will come down to see you as soon as I get back. Please be a good girl. You are too sweet to be anything else. Well, good-by, with love and best wishes."

Mrs. Williams testified her husband boasted of his love domination over girls.

LONG BEACH MAKES ALL-YEAR PLEDGES.

CITY PLANS VIGOROUS DRIVE TO GET QUOTA OF TEN THOUSAND A YEAR.

First returns from Long Beach in the campaign for support of the All-Year Club of Southern California, were received yesterday, and are to be followed immediately. It is promised, by a vigorous drive for the completion of the quota set for the beach city, that it was originally in hand from these include three-year pledges from the Arlington, the De Luxe, Kennebec, and the Virginia hotels.

These were reported yesterday by D. H. Jones and Walter E. Smith of the All-Year Club's executive committee, following a conference with a committee appointed some time ago by the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce to organize a fund raising campaign in Long Beach. Mr. Jones and Mr. Smith found that an excellent organization has been perfected under the chairmanship of E. R. Wood, and that at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Long Beach this evening, Scott W. Alexander, of the Hotel Alexander, will bring before the chamber the advisability of an aggressive campaign, using the machinery that Mr. Wood has built.

Assurances were given the All-Year Club representative that Long Beach can be counted on to subscribe the $100,000 originally asked to raise for the All-Year effort. With the pledges turned over to the representatives yesterday, and those that the Long Beach committee has in prospect, a very good start has been made by the beach city in securing its quota. It was stated by the committee with whom Mr. Jones and Mr. Smith talked, that Long Beach as a whole feels it has a very distinct place in the All-Year movement.

Another subscription yesterday came from the Prince Rupert Apartments of Los Angeles.

"DISARM OR DIE," IS WARNING OF PASTOR.

REV. E. E. HELMS DISCUSSES WORLD CONFERENCE IN CITY CLUB ADDRESS.

"Disarm or Die," was the subject of an address given before a large audience at yesterday's noon luncheon of the City Club by Rev. Elmer E. Helms, pastor of the First Methodist Church, in which he made an eloquent plea for the world conference called by President Harding will be successful in bringing about an international agreement for disarmament.

"At this hour of world opportunity," said Dr. Helms, "we are fortunate in having at the place of affairs of state that princely Christian statesman, that lover of world peace, Charles E. Hughes, may the God of Peace brood over that table in Washington and may the best at last have conquered the world."

Dr. Helms praised the work of President Harding in calling the conference of the nations. "Let us hope," said Dr. Helms, "that the President, through Mr. Hughes, may plainly state to these nations thus officially assembled that it is not optional whether we disarm or not; that we have not one of many choices, but only one of two—disarm or die."

"Our boys were told," he added, "that they were fighting to end war. It is now high time we show them whether we led them or not."

GILLETTE DEFENDANT IN RECOVERY SUIT.

FORMER LAWYER SEEKS TO GET MONEY INVESTED IN CORPORATION.

Charles BAGE, a lawyer of Muskogee, Okla., who gave up his practice in that city to come to Los Angeles and interest himself in a corporation formed to develop deposits of distasteful earth, is seeking in Judge Carey's court to recover $414.15 from King C. Gillette, the razor magnate, and L. E. Lounsbury.

Mr. Bage testified yesterday that he came to Los Angeles to develop the investment in the corporation, and was to receive in addition to a salary of $500 a month, stock in the corporation, equal to his investment.

He asserts that after the Atomite Products Company was formed to develop, manufacture and sell the deposit worth reasonably about $500,000, the defendants failed to carry out their agreement. The defendants in their answer set up that Mr. Bage misled them as to his financial ability. They say he declared he could furnish all the money required for the enterprise

Just How A Stricken, Helpless Pigeon Was Brought Back To Full Health and Strength in 48 Hours

Amazing Scientific Test Shows Why Your Physical Development And Energy Depend Largely Upon Those Mysterious Food Elements—The Vitamins—All Three of Which Are Now Combined In Mastin's Yeast VITAMON Tablets.

The photographs above are of the same pigeon—taken 48 hours apart. When the first photograph was made the pigeon had been fed for three weeks with plenty of such foods as form a part of most families' everyday meals—but containing no vitamins. Even though apparently getting enough to eat the pigeon became steadily weaker and the watching scientists did not believe it could survive another day. Then they opened the pigeon's bill and by forcible feeding gave it, in addition to the same kind of food, Mastin's VITAMON Tablets for two days, with the result shown in the second photograph. From a stricken, helpless condition and unable to even stand, the pigeon was transformed within 48 hours into a bird filled with life and energy—flying with the joyousness of renewed health.

In Mastin's VITAMON Tablets were supplied, in highly concentrated form, the three vitamins (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble B and C) in an active state such as Nature originally provided them in fresh yeast and certain raw foods. What Science proved by its test on this pigeon is being proved just as conclusively today by millions of men and women whose systems demand the health-giving vitamins which are so often lost in the cooking of many everyday foods.

HEALTH OFFICE AIDE TO WED IN CHICAGO.

"Doctor, I am going to Chicago," said Miss Eva Henrietta Langren to Health Officer Pomeroy yesterday. "I am going to be married," she added with a blush. In this way did the employees of the county health office learn that they are going to lose Dr. Pomeroy's stenographer. The marriage license was taken out yesterday. Miss Langren gave her age as 34 years and the bridegroom, Walter Poulson of Chicago, is 44. Miss Langren has been employed by the county five years.
